My name is Kirstin O'Neill, and I would like to be considered for the position of Vice President of the Agility Association of Canada (AAC).

I believe I bring a unique perspective to this role, having been involved in agility for nearly 30 years, from starting as a junior handler to representing Canada on international world teams. Throughout that time, I have been an active supporter of the AAC in many different capacities. I am an AAC Masters Judge, have helped host multiple AAC National and Regional Championships, and teach agility professionally. Through our training school, I work with a wide range of handlers, from people just discovering the sport to experienced competitors. This gives me an appreciation for the different goals, needs, and perspectives within our agility community.

I have competed at every AAC National Championship I have been eligible to attend, regardless of its location. I have also travelled across Canada teaching seminars, giving me the opportunity to connect with handlers from different regions and gain a better understanding of the challenges and priorities that vary across the country.

I care deeply about the future of agility in Canada and believe the AAC should continue to support and encourage everyone who enjoys the sport, whether they are just starting out, competing recreationally, or pursuing the highest levels of competition.

I would welcome the opportunity to give back to an organization that has been such a significant part of my life, help ensure that members from all areas and levels of the sport have a voice, and contribute to a strong and inclusive future for the AAC.
